

Abandonment and withdrawal of medical and osteopathic licensure applications.

- (A) If the applicant for medical or osteopathic licensure fails to complete the application process within six months of initial application filing, the board may notify the applicant in writing of its intention to consider the application abandoned. If no response to that notice is received by the board within thirty days of mailing, the board shall consider the application as abandoned and no further processing shall be undertaken with respect to that application.
- (B) If the application process extends for a period longer than six months, the board may require updated information as it deems necessary.
- (C) No application for medical or osteopathic licensure may be withdrawn without approval of the board.
- (D) Submitted fees shall be neither refundable nor transferable.
